

Heap Memory

memory via the "malloc" function, and the memory allocated on the heap is "free" and released for reuse. When creating complex programs, we often need a large amount of memory space. In this case we use Heap Memory. So, in order to come up with a good program, we need to be able to do the memory check.

I created memory in 2 samples.

I use malloc to create heap.